

Leading the Advancement of Civilisation Self Evaluation

How are your skills at leading an ever-advancing civilisation? Here are 25 behaviours of leaders for positive change. See how well you do now, and again at the end of the 200 Day Challenge. Tick the column that most accurately describes the extent to which higher order learning practices occur. Then follow the directions to give yourself a percentage of leadership skills for advancing civilisation.	Often	Occasionally	Never
1. I take action on social issues I care about
2. I observe when people appear to be excluded, and then actively try to include them in conversations or activities
3. I mindfully engage with people who lack sight, hearing or mobility in ways that respect their abilities
4. I am aware of the overt and subtle ways that women are diminished, and actively foster equality between men and women
5. I support the powerless, such as those who struggle because they are elderly, young, poor, uneducated, bullied, faced hardship or lack good English
6. I try to understand my own biases and keep an open mind about those with alternative views and attitudes
7. I speak out when I see injustice
8. I build constructive conversations with those whose opinions I disagree with
9. I listen attentively, such that colleagues feel they have been fully heard and understood
10. I am skilled at resolving conflicts
11. I act with integrity, even if it means sacrifices
12. I withstand peer pressure to uphold my principles
13. I demonstrate respect for other people's religions, such as through learning about their religion, attending their celebrations, and defending their faith against prejudice

14. I demonstrate respect for other people's cultures, such as through learning about their culture, greeting them in their language, pronouncing their name correctly, and defending their culture against prejudice
15. I am an avid learner
16. I investigate the truth, weighing the evidence for myself, rather than relying on the views of others
17. I act in the interests of society, rather than my narrow personal interests
18. I make sacrifices to protect the environment
19. I view the earth as one country and mankind its citizens
20. I care for my health – my fitness, eyesight, hearing, nutrition, posture, relaxation and sleep
21. I care for my wellbeing – spiritual, mental and emotional
22. I care for the wellbeing of my family, friends and community members
23. I am grateful for life and all it brings
24. I appreciate arts, music and sciences that promote a better world
25. I live a purposeful life - committing to worthwhile things that are bigger than me
Count the number of ticks in each column
Multiply the number of ticks by the score and enter in the column below	4	2	0
Total score for each column
Higher Learning Percentage (Add row above)	%		